

FIRST-YEAR Writing

ENGL 401.M2 | Fall 2021

Mon, 9-11:50 AM, P365

Welcome to First-Year Writing!

This course will help prepare you to enter various discourses, genres, and contexts that you'll encounter across the curriculum. This section of ENGL 401 is designed for Millyard Scholars. As such, in addition to the outcomes listed below, you will be introduced to writing and research skills, genres, texts, and ways of thinking dominant in the life sciences. In particular, you will read, analyze, and experiment with academic and professional modes of synthesis, analysis, research, argumentation, multimodal communication, and documentation (APA). Together, we'll approach this course as a community of practice, in which writing is a collaborative process. (This course fulfills a WI requirement).

COVID-19 POLICIES

All students are required to wear masks in class and in any other indoor spaces where people will be close to one another for more than a few minutes unless a medical exception is made through an accommodation process. It is your responsibility to obtain a mask before coming to class. For information on proper use of masks, acceptable mask types, and other PPE and social distancing guidelines, visit <https://www.unh.edu/coronavirus>. Students wishing to request a medical accommodation should contact the Student Accessibility Services.

To ensure that we do our part to slow the spread of COVID-19, in addition to wearing masks, we will take the following measures:

- You will be asked to present a valid Wildcat Pass at the beginning of each in-person class session. If you do not have a valid Wildcat Pass, you will be asked to leave, so that you can make immediate arrangements to update it.
- Everyone will wipe down their desks and chairs at the start of class.
- Everyone will sit in the same seat every session and we will socially distance as much as we're able in the space provided. (I will take a picture of the seating arrangements on the first day for needed reference throughout the semester).

If you refuse to comply with any of the protocols above, you will be asked to leave class immediately and you may also be reported to the Office of the Dean of Students and your associate dean. For more, see UNHM's COVID-19 Updates and Resources.

Potential for Modality Change

This class begins the semester in face-to-face operations with a mask requirement . If our health and safety require, this course may shift to remote sessions. If this happens, we will continue to meet synchronously during our scheduled class time over Zoom. If additional adjustments to the assignment schedule are needed as a result of this shift, we will decide on such changes together. Monitor all Canvas announcements, campus email, UNH Police Twitter, RAVE alerts, and other UNH announcements to stay up to date with campus and course operations.

REQUIRED MATERIALS

- There are not any required textbooks for this course.
- I will post assigned readings to our Canvas course site. In addition, it is important that you consult the Course Calendar regularly.
- You will need access to a laptop or tablet during class. Laptops can be checked out (and used on campus) at the UNHM library. If you need additional help, please visit the UNHM IT/Help Desk website.
- You will need to sign up for a free Canva account to create your infographic. I will provide additional instructions in class.

Satisfactory participation involves:

- attending class on time
- making thoughtful, respectful contributions to class discussion and activities
- thoroughly and promptly completing writer's blog activities
- asking substantial questions
- making room for others to speak
- contributing to small group work

Class participation accounts for 10% of your final grade, and will be calculated as follows:

	Excels = 2 Points	Baseline = 1 Point	Below = 0 Point
Attendance & Punctuality	Attend @ least 94% of meetings on time	Attend @ least 86% of meetings on time	Attend fewer than 86% of class meetings on time
Participation	Verbally participate with meaningful comments and/or contribute to the discussion google doc at least 90% of the time	Verbally participate with meaningful comments and/or contribute to the discussion google doc at least 80% of the time	Do not verbally participate or add to discussion google doc
Writer's Blog Posts	Complete all posts thoroughly and on time	Two or fewer posts missing, three or fewer late	At least three posts missing, and four late

A = 6 points; B = 5 points; C = 4 points; D = 3 points; F = <3 points

Read Critically

Writers are readers. The readings in this course will introduce genres, arguments, examples, and key concepts, and enlarge context for class discussion. Your class participation depends on your timely, critical reading. For instance, many of the writer's blog posts require you to respond to assigned course readings before attending class.

Submit Complete Drafts & Essays On Time

You will complete four major essays in this course:

Rhetorical Analysis

Infographic

Position Paper

Reflective Portfolio Letter

Each essay (with exception to the Portfolio Letter) will require different drafts, which will receive feedback from both your peers and me. This revision process will help you to develop your writing from the invention and planning stages into concise, clear, well-researched, and correctly formatted products. Drafts should be submitted on the Canvas course site by the target dates listed on the assignment sheets and course calendar. I will not assess in-process drafts for quality, but for completion and effort.

Each draft prior to the final draft of an essay, you will receive a process grade of:

- 10/10: meets/exceeds minimum requirements -OR-
- 7/10: does not meet minimum requirements and/or late -OR-
- 0/10: not submitted or 5+ days late

These process grades will be averaged together with your workshop credit to account for 25% of your final course grade.

For the final draft of the first three essays, you will receive:

- a numeric/letter grade that represents the grade the draft would've received if submitted in the final E-Portfolio

These grades will help you revise your essays and provide you with a better understanding of my expectations for the final e-portfolio. The final draft grades for the Rhetorical Analysis, Infographic, and Position Paper will be averaged together to account for 20% of your final course grade.

Assignment sheets and collaboratively designed rubrics for all assignments will be posted on the Canvas course site throughout the semester. If you require print copies, please email me asap at c.c.hendricks@unh.edu.

Complete Writer's Blog Entries on Time

You will complete informal free writes, writing and annotation exercises, and reading responses regularly. You will submit these writer's blog assignments on the Canvas course site. I will not assess these for quality, but for effort and completion. Your Writer's Blog grades will factor into your class participation grade.

Participate Thoughtfully in Peer Review Workshops

For each essay, you will participate in writing workshops. I will provide specific directions for peer review for each Workshop. Participation in these workshops is vital to your success as a writer. You should attend each workshop with the appropriate draft completed to receive a full process grade.

For each workshop, you will receive a process grade of:

- 10/10: meets/exceeds minimum requirements OR
- 7/10: does not meet minimum requirements and/or late OR
- 0/10: did not attend the workshop and/or are unprepared

If I am concerned about your participation in writing workshops, I will notify you in our conferences.

These workshop grades will be averaged together with your draft process grades to account for 20% of your final course grade.

Submit a Revised, Polished, & Reflective Final E-Portfolio

Your final, evaluative e-portfolio (Assignment Sheet) is due at the end of the semester.

Your final e-portfolio grade is based on the following materials:

- An average of your final grades on 2–3 revised essays (85%)
- Your reflective portfolio letter grade (15%)

I will provide more detailed instructions and we will discuss the e-portfolio assignment several times throughout the semester. Because I need time to thoughtfully grade your portfolios before final grades are due, late portfolios will NOT be accepted for any reason.

Your e-portfolio grade accounts for 45% of your final course grade.

Attend Class Regularly

It is essential that you attend class, as the activities, writing workshops, and materials in class will help you to write and revise effective products. Please attend class as much as possible and if you can't attend, please notify me by email before or as soon as you can after. You do not need to send me documentation or doctor's notes or share any information that you are not comfortable sharing. To ensure we slow the spread of COVID, no one should attend class ill and you will not be penalized for missing class due to an illness or suspected illness. On the first day of class, we will compose a more specific attendance policy together that outlines parameters and potential consequences for excessive absences, which I will then post on the Canvas course site. If UNH curtails operations, our class will not meet in person or remotely; in this event, please check the Canvas site for announcements. If you have five or more unexcused absences, you will no longer be able to pass the course. I don't anticipate any of you will be in this position, however, so let's all agree to do the work, come to class, and learn a lot together. If you are a caregiver and need to miss class for reasons associated with your caregiving responsibilities, please email me at any time. In general, the earlier you contact me with any attendance issues, regardless the reason, the easier it is for me to accommodate you while maintaining fair expectations for all students.

A Note on Grading

Given the portfolio, it can be difficult to calculate your final course grade throughout the semester. The grade book on the Canvas course site can be misleading. The process and projected numeric grades I give you on your drafts will help you assess your final grade. Please email me at any time to discuss your grades.

CONFERENCES

We will have two virtual individual conferences. Sign-up sheets for conferences will be available in the "Important Course Documents" module on the Canvas course site. Classes will be canceled on conference days, either in whole or part. Conference days are outlined in the course calendar.

LATE WORK

Every assignment should be submitted by the target date when possible. Given the multiple-drafting system of the course, keeping up with these dates will ensure that you don't fall behind and become overwhelmed making up drafts. If you are going to miss the target date, please email me. Assignments submitted late without emailing me will receive half credit. If you haven't made prior arrangements with me, no late work will be accepted 5 days after the target date. No extensions will be provided on the e-portfolio, as it is due at the end of the semester.

Consistent with UNH policy, you should expect to spend an average of nine hours per week completing work for this course. This is an estimation; for more on UNH's credit hour policy, see the University Academic Requirements.

ACADEMIC HONESTY

Correct and ethical documentation is an important skill when reading and writing in academic and professional contexts. Any attempt at plagiarism or misrepresentation will result in a failing grade for the project and, in some cases, for the entire course. For more on plagiarism and misrepresentation, see UNH's Academic Honesty policy, "Student Rights, Rules, and Responsibilities," and this tutorial.

In this course, we will review and practice documentation in MLA (Modern Language Association) and APA (American Psychological Association) formats. You will have opportunities to correct instances of potential plagiarism that I identify in my feedback. I recommend that you do NOT cite new sources in your final e-portfolio without allowing me to review your citations first. If you have concerns about plagiarism, please email me before final revisions are due.
